SENGLAUB GENEALOGY

Ludwig Senglaub, his wife Charlotte Quente or Quandt, and their child, Ottilia, age three years, set out for America on April 20, 1848. They arrived here June 25, 1848. They purchased 40 acres of land in Town of Wilson, Sheboygan County, Wisconsin on July 1, 1848, on which they lived for about eight years. In 1856 they moved to Howard's Grove. In 1867 they moved to Rhine Center, town of Herman, Sheboygan County, Wis.

Three children, Amanda, Louis and Herman were born to them in America.

With them in 1848, came the sister of Ludwig; Amelia and her husband Christian Hook or Huck and their three children Arnold, Agnes and Louise. The Hook family decided to settle in Menasha. They left Milwaukee driving cross country with a team of oxen to pull their wagon. When they arrived in Oshkosh they took a scow boat on Lake Winnebago and so landed in Menasha. Mr. Hook was a butcher by trade.

Genealogy of Amelia Senglaub and Christian Hook:

Amelia Senglaub, her husband Christian Hook or Huck, and their 3 children, Arnold, Louisa and Agnes emigrated to America from Saxony, Germany. They set out April 20, 1848 arriving here June 25, 1848. When they arrived in Milwaukee, they bought a wagon and an oxen team and set out for Oshkosh, Wis. There they took a scow boat and crossed to Menasha on Lake Winnebago. Christian Hook, a butcher by trade, opened up a butcher shop. Many notable personages were among his patrons. Governor Doty was one of these.

With them came her brother, Ludwig Senglaub, his wife and their child, Ottilia. Ludwig purchased 40 acres of land in Town of Wilson, Sheboygan County, Wis. and settled there.
